QuickAlert

School

Providing a safe opportunity for students to learn is crucial in the world we live in. QuickAlert is the solution to meet these distinctly modern challenges and protect students and staff. QuickAlert provides a quick and easy way for staff to alert administration or the entire school to particular events occurring in the building. QuickAlert can be adapted to meet any needs that your school may have and is an affordable option for budget-scraped institutions.

How it Works

QuickAlert can be triggered using a handheld panic button that staff wear on a lanyard or through buttons that are mounted on the wall in every classroom. Using these buttons, staff can request the help of an administrator or place the school on lockdown. Using the app, staff have even more flexibility. Each school can specify exactly how they want the system implemented (confirmation requirements, alert methods, etc.) and we will deliver.

Wall Mounted Buttons

If your school elects to employ the wall-mounted panic buttons, then every classroom or communal space can have a panic button affixed to the wall in a designated location (behind the teacher's desk, by the door, etc). This button can trigger multiple different alerts and will inform the designated people of the exact room where the alert has been triggered.

QuickAlert

Handheld Buttons

If your school elects to employ the handheld panic buttons, then every staff member will be issued a panic button with a clip that can be attached to a lanyard. This button can trigger multiple different alerts and will inform the designated people of who has triggered the alert.

The App

All QuickAlert installations require the use of the iOS and Android app. All staff members are asked to install the app on their mobile device and sign in with their account. Through the app, staff members can trigger a whole host of alerts or contact specific administrators individually. This app is also one of the ways that designated people will be informed of an incoming alert.

Alert Types

Request Help

Staff members can request help from an administrator for minor things that don't require an action on behalf of the entire school.

Lockdown

Staff members can trigger a code red alert that puts the school on lockdown.

Custom

Schools can define custom alerts that are applicable to their school alone. These custom alerts span from evacuation alerts to tornado warnings.
